Race face at the Dirt Bike Show

Top men and machines from the world of motocross are confirmed to put in an appearance at the 2009 Dirt Bike Show at Stoneleigh Park. This year's show will showcase a mini race paddock, featuring Proppa.com STR Honda, LPE Kawasaki, Relentless Suzuki and UTAG Yamaha.

In addition to this season's bikes, Proppa.com STR Honda will be displaying their 2010 machines complete with 2010 graphics, as well as a Service Honda 500cc 2-stroke and James Noble's 500cc steel-framed Honda 2-stroke. The Buildabase CCM Racing Team will be displaying their full GP setup outside the entrance to the halls, including all this year's factory CCM bikes. Meanwhile on the KTM stand visitors will be able to see MX2 World Champion Marvin Musquin's machine and that of Enduro Champion E2 class Jonny Aubert too. KTM will also be displaying a brand new ATV machine, the first road legal quad and this is being shown for the first time in the UK, due in dealer showrooms in late 2010.

Celebs expected to be seen at Stoneleigh Park include Shaun Simpson, recovering from his nasty injury early in the season and Relentless Suzuki MX Rider Martin Barr. Jordan Rose, Nathan Parker and James Noble of STR Honda, Tom Church, the highest placed Brit in both MX1 & MX2 classes, as well as current British MX2 Champion Stephen Sword will be there too, plus top British trials rider James Dabill, who will be performing in the Live Action Arena daily.
